

Data Analytics Team Lead

Crawley, West Sussex, UK - Up to £80,000 (depending on skills) + Benefits

Your new company

We're a vibrant technology solutions provider delivering transformation projects across the UK. Our excellent reputation has built us a diverse user base that uses our solutions to engage their customers, inspire their teams and transform their businesses.

The data analytics team lead role is an exciting and challenging opportunity to grow a data and analytics capability within the ITHQ team. We are looking to add an ambitious and highly skilled individual who can excel in this role, taking an opportunity to demonstrate best practices in data strategy, analytics, visualisation and engineering.

Your new role

You'll join a team of highly experienced IT professionals and will report directly to our Head of Services. You'll be tasked with developing new methods and technical solutions to effectively drive data solution development. You will be responsible for growing our data analytics team, monitoring & defining GTM messaging and methodology, drive solutions for both internal and external clients and help with client delivery where necessary. The role is exciting and challenging as it involves multiple aspects of both leadership and delivery. You will be engaging senior stakeholders and, ultimately, be responsible for this critical area of the business going forward. Your strategy will determine the success of this service team.

What you'll need to succeed

As the successful candidate you'll have strong data analytics experience, strong commercial acumen and the drive to grow a team from scratch. Demonstrating the ability to prioritise effectively, apply creative thinking and be results orientated, you will be more entrepreneur than employee. Any:

- previous leadership roles
- data qualifications
- vendor relationships
- experience in solution development

will be advantageous and you will grow and learn in all these areas and more in this role.

What you'll get in return

You'll be rewarded with salary of up to £80,000 + benefits and the rare opportunity to work in a client facing role, building your own team and facing unique challenges. You'll be supported by a closely-knit management team and cutting-edge systems and technology, based in beautiful offices with on-site parking in Crawley.

What you need to do now
